Stop Lights and Countdown Boards

Stoplights and countdown boards are simple ways to help structure undefined periods of time (i.e., when it is unclear how long an activity will last)

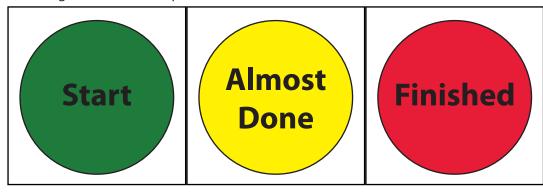

- ♦ One good time for using these boards is when waiting in a waiting room.
- ♦ On a stoplight, red, yellow and green cards indicate time passing.
- On a countdown board, numbers 1-5 indicate time passing.
- ♦ In either strategy, the adult manipulates the board, reflecting the passage of time.
- ♦ As time passes, the adult takes off the appropriate cards (one at a time) until the final card is removed and the activity is over.

To Make:

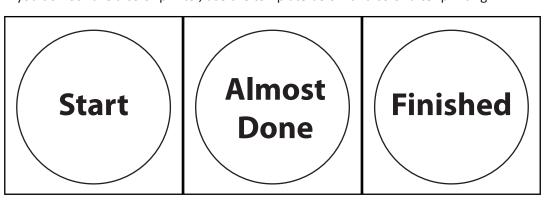

- 1. Cut out the pictures available here (or draw your own), laminate if possible.
- 2. Cut a piece of poster board so it is slightly bigger than the pictures, see images above.
- 3. Place Velcro on the poster board in a vertical column.
- 4. Use Velcro to place pictures on poster board in the order shown in the images.
- 5. Place a strip on the back to hold removed pieces.
